

XINHUA FINANCE LIBRARY FOUNDATION

The Xinhua Finance Library Foundation was established as a charitable organization, with the aim of “giving the gift of literacy” by contributing one library per year to a remote village in China and to provide it with books. The Foundation is an initiative started by Xinhua Finance CEO Fredy Bush and supported largely through the efforts of Xinhua Finance employees and associates worldwide.

During the year, several Xinhua Finance employees volunteered their time by traveling to Central China to build the Foundation’s library for 2006. We dug ditches, poured cement, laid bricks, and completed a library building, with the help of a local construction crew. And then, staff from around the company donated over 600 books to stock the new library. For more information about this aspect of Xinhua Finance, please visit www.xinhuafinance.com/libraryfoundation/.

